Everyone values a beautiful community and Point Richmond is unique because of its preservation of original buildings which distinguishes our area. Our Museum is unique because of its size but preserves valuable historical information. Combining history with modern technology, the Point Richmond History Association has installed a digital picture frame that has a slide show of over 600 pictures. Our Editor, Gary Shows, has made this possible from his collection, many of which are already on the PointRichmondHistory.org website. Recent visitors are spending more time in the building fascinated by these photos.

Are you retired? Need some excitement in your life? Have a couple extra hours a month? Like to meet new people? Consider staffing the Museum as a substitute. Interested? Call 510.234-4219 for an interview.

Gary Shows (510-235-1336)

I've had the 1903 photo from Anne Hanzlik for quite some time but had not really studied it. Sadly, Anne passed away last August and I am wishing she was here to see this issue. The picture is amazingly crisp, you will see that from the zooms scattered throughout this issue. Special thanks to Thomas Mercer-Hursh for preparing them.

We still have lots of PRHA 2012 year at a glance calendars left. Stop by the museum for your free copy

I appreciate the timely work our contributors put into making "THIS POINT.....in time" interesting. Thanks to you all.

HAPPY NEW YEAR and welcome to 2012. How quickly 2011 passed.

The next generation is preparing to receive the Sacraments of First Holy Communion and Confirmation. At present, 20 are preparing to receive First Holy Communion.

A Children's Liturgy is ongoing each Sunday during Mass. The children are tutored by Margaret Morkowski, assisted by Jennifer Rosier. All children are invited to attend. A few Sundays ago, the children attended the first part of the Mass with their parents and then left for the church hall – some left willingly and some needed a parent's hand to guide them.

Along with the economy, our income has fallen somewhat, but we were able to pay the obligatory bills and still keep our heads above water. When it comes to the economy, we too are affected. We give thanks to a number of generous parishioners. The Parish is small, but showing signs of increased attendance. We may be small, compared to others, but we are blessed with some very generous parishioners.

The Point Richmond Art Society meets in the church hall. They deserve credit for encouraging local artists and arranging exhibits around town. We appreciate having the upbeat, colorful and creative presence among us.

It did not take long for Father to realize the pluses of Pt. Richmond. He frequents the Plunge on a regular basis and confirms that it is a great way to start the day and retain mobility of the body.

We have experienced several baptisms. Father has had the honor of baptizing 80 children and are into our third register which began in 1972. The other register went back to 1943, and the first one begins on October 10, 1902. The baptisms are presently listed alphabetically and indexed. In the past, church records were very important, since they were usually the only records kept. Among those recently baptized were: Corinelise Sara Buie, the daughter of Jeff and Paulette and Haley Anne Howard, the daughter of Anthony and Christine. Both of the girls have brothers who were also baptized at Our Lady of Mercy.

If you wish to register as a parishioner, forms are available in the entry way. If you live within the parish's legal boundaries, you are by church law already a member. For details, visit the webpage: pointrichmondcatholic.org.

We continue to support the Souper Kitchen and also collect clothing for the same. Your contributions are always accepted. If you have clothing to donate, you may leave it by the church hall door.

We thank the Gateway Foundation for awarding Our Lady of Mercy a grant which was used to preserve the gothic design on the back porch of the church. At about the same time the back porch on the rectory showed signs of dry rot, etc., and was replaced.

Christmas is now a memory, but we must comment on the beauty of the church during this season. The Pointsettias were a donation by a generous parishioner and many hands worked on beautifying the interior for the Christmas services. During this season, a Ceremony of Carols was held, which was in the traditional form of vespers. It was led by three musicians – soprano, violin, and piano.

During Advent our Lady of Mercy Giving Tree sat in the back of the church and received many donations which were given to the Family House at Children's Hospital, Oakland. Nancy and Stanley Toledo chair the giving tree and transport the donations to the hospital. Thanks is extended to the Toledo's who continue to chair the tree each year.

In all the years that Brenda McKinley and I have hosted the first Sunday coffee/donuts get together, we have never missed a month – 2012 being the exception. The New Year fell on a Sunday and the donut supplier was closed for the holiday. It was a first for all of us.

Our Parish Secretary, Beth Lewin, works behind the scenes, but is responsible for keeping all the official aspects of parish life well organized. We are fortunate to have her.

A parishioner is willing to lend us a very high quality grand piano for use in the church. The big question is whether it will or will not fit and whether the weight can be supported. At this point, it is a matter of discussion.

Contribution envelopes for 2012 are available in the entry to the church. Parishioners using envelopes may pick up their assigned envelope boxes and new users may select a box and register on the sheet provided on the table. At the end of January, parishioners using the envelopes will receive a detailed list of all 2011 contributions.

On the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the parish in 1952, the parish purchased a silver chalice, engraved in honor of the Parish Pioneers. With continued use, it was in need of restoration. The restoration was recently done and was quite costly. It is a tradition to offer parishioners the opportunity to help cover the costs used at Mass in memory of deceased relatives.

A few weeks ago the Chronicle pictured an old Nissan Pathfinder and its owner. Father David could also qualify for such a picture, since his 1994 Nissan Pathfinder with 198,000 miles on it just left the shop with a new transmission.

A watercolor class is scheduled for Saturday, February 5. Father has a DVD with a few lessons on it by an absolute genius at catching the shapes of his subjects without obsessing.

Last year, Tom Sindicich did a marvelous job of restoring the Station of the Cross, which fell off of the wall. It has not yet been put back in place since it needs to be repainted, which requires funds that we do not presently have.

A graduation celebration was recently held for Martin Lopez, who graduated at the top of his class.

The holidays brought many visitors to our Parish. Linda and Rick Duse from Houston, never miss the opportunity to visit us while in the Bay Area. We also enjoyed meeting Louisa Hager visiting from Sherrill, New York. Louisa is Craig Hager's mother.

Condolences to the Frosini family in the recent death of Helene Frosini, a Pt. Richmond native.

Condolences to the Lometti family in the recent death of Varsi Lometti.

Continue to remember in your prayers: John Gerk, Al Frosini, Vince Kafka, Bill Smith, Frankie Mello and Dody Perry.

Condolences are also extended to son-in-law, Kevin Knee, in the recent death of his mother, Peggy. Memorial services will be held in Pittsburgh, PA.

Those of us living on Idaho Street are rather smug because we retain the same neighbors, but that recently changed when 16-year residents Scott, Cyndi and Ben Stanfield moved to Berkeley. They will be missed.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY Grandson, Griffin – Ama will always love you.

WHEN EVERYTHING IS COMING YOUR WAY, YOU ARE IN THE WRONG LANE.

On Thanksgiving, members, dedicated friends and local businesses came together to serve a sit-down dinner to anyone who could join us. Teams formed to decorate; plan, prepare and transport the food; set up; welcome; serve; clean up; ask for donations (and pick them up); and deliver leftovers. An army of people brought pies. Pastor Dan and Tom Belton provided easy-listening music for the diners. Fran Smith and her crew made sure the space looked bright and comfortable. Barbara Haley, Doreen Leighton, Deby McFadyen, Mim Drake, and Tinna Manansala organized the feast. Attentive servers in the dining room made all who came to dinner feel welcome and cared for. Tyrah Weems, our youngest server at age six, was really dedicated to her role. She wore the servers' uniform apron with pride. We owe special thanks to Paul Garnett who was captain of the kitchen the day of the dinner and kept the plates of food coming in spite of a cantankerous stove, and to Tinna Manansala who oversaw the food prep and plating. Mim Drake hosted chopping and baking at BarkStix bakery. Don Wieber, Steve Shank, and Lauren Macleod embraced the less-visible task of cleanup. We served about 200 meals, both to people who stayed to eat or took them home to eat with others. After it was over, we still had leftovers to share with the Bay Area Rescue Mission.

This year's honor roll of business donors was long: Margi Cellucci of Bayview Realty, DeWitt Gallery and Framing, Edibles, El Sol Restaurant, Feagley Realty, The Hotel Mac, Little Louie's Restaurant, Pikanha Brazilian Restaurant, Point Richmond Business Association, Michele Seville for Richmond Arts and Culture, Richmond Fire Department, Santa Fe Market, Starbucks, Caterer Marsha Tomassi, Up and Under Restaurant, Paul Garnett and Tinna Manansala, and Bark Stix. Be sure to thank our donors and patronize their businesses as often as you are able – uh, except for the Fire Department, that is!

Helen Wysham collected a basket heaped with socks to warm cold feet for homeless and needy people in Richmond. Pat Dornan arranged holiday support for a family through the GRIP Family Shelter, aided by donations from our congregation.

Some people from the church donated to Pt. Richmond resident Claire-Elizabeth DeSophia's project to provide toys San Quentin inmates can give their kids who visit them during the holidays. Claire shopped with a former student from San Quentin and bought games, dolls, skateboards, scooters, hot wheels, jewelry-making kits, Legos, coloring sets, plush stuffed animals, and much more to make Christmas a little merrier and add some normalcy to the families whose loved-ones are incarcerated.

The United Methodist Women had a Holiday potluck at Fran Smith's home in Fairfield on December 3. Fran's home was elaborately decorated and a festive setting for our party. We brought gifts for people served by the Contra Costa Rescue Mission, and enjoyed savory dinner and friends. Somehow in all of the fun, we forgot to sing carols.

An urgent concern for the people who live at Camp Ashraf in Iraq led to a rally at the White House on December 12. Jill Jenice, Jean, Ensieh, Parviz, and Ali attended the rally, along with a couple thousand other people from across the country. Since the rally, Nouri al-Maliki, Prime Minister of Iraq, has extended the deadline for all people to leave the Camp from December 31, 2011, to April 2012. Hopefully, Iraqi security forces will help Ashraf residents have a safe and easy transfer to other countries where they will be welcome. Pastor Dan, Linda Andrew-Marshall, Norm and Jean Reynolds recorded a song used as part of the sound track in a video to help encourage the people of Ashraf.

We sponsored a Holiday Bake Sale on December 17 at the Point Richmond Community Center, with tables groaning under the weight of tasty homemade holiday treats. Pat Dornan made sure all purchases were beautifully and securely wrapped. We also sold Fair Trade coffee, cocoa, and tea – delicious and guilt free. The next day, leftover baked items were available after church to purchase and enjoy on the spot or later. Yum!

On December 18, Eileen Johnson directed the Chancel Choir from El Sobrante UMC combined with the Joyful Noise Choir from First UMC, in Point Richmond. The concert featured Lessons and Carols for the Advent season. Pastor Dan Damon accompanied on the piano. It's a treat to have the choir loft overflowing with singers, to be surrounded by sound, and to have ample coverage on your part if you need a quick breath!

People filled the church sanctuary and Friendship Hall for the Christmas Eve Jazz Service with the Dan Damon Quartet: Kurt Ribak, acoustic bass; Rob Hart, drums; Lincoln Adler, sax; Dan Damon, piano. Vocalists included Dave Tattershall, Paula Helene, Claudia Russell and Bruce Kaplan, Sarah Thompson and the Angel Choir, Gill Stanfield, and Bethany Reynolds. Kelsey Tostenson sang "Someone to Depend On", a song she wrote and accompanied on the guitar. Manuel Navidad read the Christmas story to the children, and Liam Thompson read it from the Gospel of Luke. Tyrah Weems joined the Angel Choir to sing the first verse of "Silent Night." The lights, decorations, music and community made for a magical evening.

Christmas came on a Sunday in 2011. We met for worship at the usual time, and many of us dressed as shepherds, angels, and wise men and women. Cameron Folds and Jamela Smith Folds channeled Joseph and Mary. We sang Christmas carols, stood around the Holy Family and became part of the story. The following Sunday, everyone was a King or Queen – Bill Thompson and Richard Smith cut an inspired paper crown for anyone who wanted to wear one.

Betty Dornan, our oldest living member, died January 7. About one hundred people gathered for her memorial and a reception on January 21. Her nieces Roberta Palfini, Kathleen Barnes, and Patricia Dornan shared stories of Betty that revealed a glimpse of the true depth of who she was. It was a loving tribute to one who valued and cultivated her relationships with others. Betty had taught Sunday school at the church, sang soprano in the choir, and was active in United Methodist Women. She served as a volunteer at the Point Richmond History Building, and was a member of the Westside Improvement club. She got older, but she never aged. We will miss her quiet strength.

We sent postcards to many Point Richmond residents in January featuring artwork by Lauren McLeod and the time of Sunday morning worship. We hope some people will decide to come check out our service and learn more about what we do.

The United Methodist Women are gathering items for layette sets to send to UMCOR (United Methodist Committee on Relief.) Kits contain cloth diapers, undershirts or onsies, baby washcloths, gowns or sleepers, diaper pins, a sweater or jacket, and receiving blankets. These are bundled together in a pack and sent to new mothers who are in need of soft, warm items to help them care for their babies.

On the Calendar:

Thursday, February 16, celebrate our 2012 Sweetheart, Pat Nelson at the 14th Annual Sweetheart Dinner. Pat Nelson is a beloved member of First United Methodist Church of Point Richmond, Co-Director of the Joyful Noise Choir,

JUST WHAT IS CHRISTIAN SCIENCE?

Steven Blair

On Saturday, March 10, 2012, at 3:00 PM the public is invited to a free talk entitled, "Just what is Christian Science?" It will be given by Marceil DeLacy, CSB, a practitioner and teacher of Christian Science from Seattle, Washington. Maybe you have questions on what Christian Scientists believe, or about healing through prayer without using medicine. Is a spiritual form of healthcare safe and effective, and how does it work? These are some of the questions that will be answered at the talk.

Some background will be given on the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy. In the latter half of the 19th century, she wrote the textbook on Christian healing: Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures. You will gain some insight into the content of this book and its relation to the Bible, why Mrs. Eddy wrote it, and how its revolutionary ideas have impacted generations of people around the world. You will hear examples of lives healed and transformed by understanding cause and effect to be spiritual rather than material.

Ms. DeLacy says, "The laws of God that made biblical healing possible are still operative and available to anyone. Learning how to rely on these laws is life-changing."

The talk will be held at the Point Richmond Community Center, 139 Washington Avenue, and will last about an hour.

It is sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Richmond, located at 112 Washington Avenue in Point Richmond. Sunday church services and Sunday School for young people up to the age of 20 are held at 10:00 AM, and a Wednesday evening testimony meeting is held at 7:30 PM. The church's Reading Room is located at 114 Washington Avenue where the public is invited to come in to read, borrow, or purchase the Bible, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, and other writings by Mary Baker Eddy, as well as weekly and monthly publications on Christian Science, including The Christian Science Monitor.

POINT METHODIST CHURCH

HISTORY Mid Dornan

Church history is rich with contributions of women. One church group in the 1920s was the SOCIAL LEAGUE of the First Methodist Episcopal Church whose history is reflected in their minutes printed below and taken from the canvass covered, red leather cornered notebook which cost $1.15. The minutes are printed as written,

SEPT 3, 1929

The first meeting of the new year, of the Social League was held in the church parlors, preceded by our regular luncheon. There were (blank) members present. Our new president, Mrs. Monette Dixon (?) presided. The minutes of the last Dec. meeting were read and approved.

A report from the auditing committee was given with both the secretary and treasurers book balancing. The treasurer gave the following report.

For the past summer months-

113.09 - collected

81.76 - expended

31.33 - balance

22.50 - old balance when the books were turned over

$ 53.83 - new balance

The president spoke of having a sick committee, called the Sunshine Committee and asked Mrs. Brothers to send cards to any sick member in the Point and Mrs. Mythen to look after any in Richmond. All expenses of the card to be paid by the League.

As the next league meeting was to be at the Methodist Church in Albany, Mrs. Prince acting as hostess, the matter of transportation was brought to our attention. Mrs. Owens was appointed to see that all members from the Point were provided for and Mrs. Scofield all those from Richmond. This luncheon was to be a pot luck one and each was asked what her dish would be so as to have a balanced diet.

A motion was put before the house, as to whether the S.L. should pay for having the dishes washed at each regular meeting, not to exceed $1.00. After discussing the question, the motion was withdrawn and no action taken.

Mrs Scofield reported that a potted plant had been sent to Mrs. Green, Mrs Oehnes' father. The matter of the January food sale was discussed. The date was set for Jan 31 with no place for distribution. Mrs. ?? appointed Mrs. Owens to take charge of the orders from Pt. Richmond and Mrs. Stuart from Richmond and Mrs. Scofield and Gray from Mira Vista. It was to be a cake and pie sale, the proceeds of which were to be used for the organ fund.

Mrs. Gill reported that the seat for the lavatory would be gratis when a shipment was received.

It was suggested by the president and endorsed by the members that each hostess plan their own entertainment for their day.

The matter of having our annual tea was discussed and favorably received. The matter was laid on the table until a later date.

Hostess for Feb 3: Mrs. Gill, Pollard, Odell and Bell.

As there was no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Washington School is celebrating their Centennial in 2012 and 2013. Many events and activities are planned for the two-year celebration. In addition to a special Tea for PTA-Past Presidents on March 1st, this coming May there will be a Centennial Games Day. This day-long event for the entire school, will include games from the past 100 years such as Jacks, rolling a hoop with a stick, Red Light Green Light, Cates-Cradle, four-squire, jump rope, hop-scotch and much-much more. Another centennial event includes a special dedication of the school library in honor of Dr. Pina J. Barbieri, who attended Washington School in the late teens and early 1920s. Pina became a Richmond educator and business women with her father's Richmond Sanitary Service. Also next school year, the entire school will be inviting all prior principals, teachers, staff, students and the community to an evening Centennial Celebration Birthday Party... details to come. The Point Richmond History Association and the Many Hands Project will be working with the PTA and the school staff to make sure the two-year celebration is a great success. Note: If you attended Washington School or would like to be invited to various centennial events or would like more details, please call me at 234-4219.

In preparing for the Washington School Centennial events, the Many Hands Project's Spirit of Leadership Program has selected the theme of "Richmond History" for this year's student projects. All of the students in the school are invited to participate in the program and they will select a subject or person from Richmond History as the focus of their research, essay, oral presentations and assessment project. Please call me at 234-4219 if you would like to participate in the program or if you have questions.

The historic Our Lady of Mercy Church is hosting their series of annual Pancake Breakfasts on the 3rd Sunday of each month through October 2012. For $8.00, the menu includes pancakes, eggs, bacon, sausage, juice, fruit, coffee and tea. Pancakes are served from 8:00 AM to 12 noon. Come and join in the fun and enjoy the good food. Please call 232-1843 for more information.

Knit-and-Such meets on the first Wednesday of every month in the Point Richmond Community Center from 12:30 PM until 2:30 PM. Please join Altha Humphrey and everyone to work on your current knitting, crocheting, crafting and/or other project or in just getting together for some fun. Please call Altha at 232-2934 for more details.

The Art Galleries in the Point have a monthly "Art Walk" event in the evening on the third Thursdays of the month. There is always something new to see and an artist to meet. Please call Pam deWitt at 236-1401 for details.

The Arts of Point Richmond is changing the schedule for their gatherings at the Point Richmond Community Center. Please call Linda Drake at 672-0793 for more information's.

The Point Richmond Business Association meets monthly at 11:45 AM on the second Wednesday of the month at the c1904, historic Baltic Bar and Restaurant. They often have a speaker followed by a business meeting. Please call their President Andrew Butt at 236-7435 for additional information.

Note: Look for the return of the PRBA's Point Richmond Farmers' Market in April 2012.

The Pont Richmond Neighborhood Council meets on the last Wednesday of the month at 7:30 PM at the Point Richmond Community Center. Please call Sue Rosenof at 599-197 for more information.

Don't forget to check out the "Calendar" page near the end of this newsletter for a list of the various Point Richmond organizations. We have lots of groups here in the Point and the members always like to "welcome" newcomers. You'll meet lots of great people.

Swim Clubs at the Richmond Natatorium

By Jean Reynolds

The end of 2011 marked the end of the first full calendar year of the Plunge Masters adult and the Richmond Sailfish youth swim clubs. Both teams formed in 2010 after the Richmond Natatorium - "The Plunge" - reopened in new glory after its massive retrofit and renovation. The many accomplishments of the Sailfish Club can be shared another time, and I will focus this article on the Richmond Plunge Masters, RPM. RPM is affiliated nationally with U.S. Masters Swimming and regionally with the Pacific Masters. Ultimately, the club membership numbered 76 swimmers for 2011.

Masters swimming offers people a variety of gifts depending on their goals: fitness, coaching, competition, and camaraderie. People come to Masters swimming with various abilities and experiences. Coach John Schonder, a competitive swimmer since age five, is able to teach basic principles of the four competition strokes, give swimmers of all levels coaching to further hone their skills, and help triathlon and open water swimmers create an appropriate training plan. He balances a love of competitive swimming with an understanding that all team members do not choose to compete. Through themes for weekly workouts and bi-monthly Saturday clinics, RPM will increase emphasis on swim technique and instruction this year. Some Saturday clinics will incorporate video recording above and under water to help analyze and improve swimmers' techniques. In 2012, RPM swimmers are encouraged to keep a personal swim log. Swimmers who complete 100 miles, 200 miles, or 300+ miles during the year will be awarded certificates.

Some swimmers practice in the bay for open water swimming events or just for fun. In September 2011, Richmond Swims hosted its second annual open water swim, Keller Cove Swim for Kids' Sake, to raise money for the Richmond Sailfish youth team. 116 swimmers signed up for the race (twice as many as last year); 26 were members of the Richmond Plunge Masters. The event t-shirt featured artwork from local artist Jim deWitt. Local business sponsors for the event included: Veolia, Questa, Bay Marine, Sports Basement, SunPower, Summit Defense, Mechanics Bank, Interactive Resources, Richmond Sanitary, Golden Bear Transfer Station, West County Resource Recovery, Smith Office Solutions, Ginger Springs Day Spa, GU Energy Gel, Body Wisdom Studio, and CLIF Bars & Company. Team members and Sailfish team parents volunteered to clean Keller beach, welcome participants, register swimmers, distribute swim bags and timing chips, staff a swimmers' aid station, sell t-shirt, and time the race to make the event a success. Race results were divided by age, sex and whether or not the swimmer wore a wet suit: of the swimmers from Richmond Plunge Masters, 15 placed first, 2 placed second, 4 placed third, and 3 placed fourth in their division. RPM finished in the top ten (in a field of over 100 clubs) in the season-long open water points competition in our region mainly due to points earned by RPM members in the Keller Cove Swim for Kids' Sake event.

While competition is optional as a Masters' team member, RPM swimmer Ron Taylor participated in Pacific Masters pool competitions during the year, and Kamala Appel competed in several open water events. Alyssa Newman won her individual age group category for the season, and finished her first Ironman-type Triathlon (the Vineman in Guerneville) last summer, thanks in part to her newfound swimming skills under John's coaching and her committed training.

On January 21, 2012, the Olympic Club of San Francisco hosted a 1500-meter swim meet, the first of the new year. RPM members Jennie Smythe, John Schonder, and Steven Westcott all placed in their age divisions.

Early in September, city staff installed a bulkhead - a barrier placed across the width of the pool - to increase our lap distance from 20 yards (the pool width) to 25 yards (the end of the pool to the bulkhead.) Thus equipped, the lane distance at the Plunge is suitable to host swim meets, and the teams are able to practice standard competition distances. The club purchased one diving block in 2011 and recently Norm Hantzsch donated another, but five more are needed before the team can host a meet.

In October, swimmers did a 30-minute freestyle swim for distance. The recorded distances will be used as a baseline for a future 30-minute test. Since October, swimmers can build strength using hand paddles crafted by experts Bob Carlson and Max Rapoport at Carlson River Boards and provided to the team at a low cost. Coach John assembled the paddles; many RPM members use them at every practice.

To keep swim fees down, support the Sailfish youth, and purchase some needed equipment, the Plunge Masters plan some fundraising activities during the year. Besides the Keller Cove Swim for Kids' Sake, scheduled for September 16, the team plans to participate in the Point Richmond Garage Sale, hosted annually on Memorial Day by the Masquers Theater.

The Board of Directors of "Richmond Swims", a non-profit operating under the financial umbrella of "Richmond Friends of Recreation," expects in time to have its own separate 501.c.3 status. The current Board of Directors, which oversees RPM and the Sailfish youth team, includes volunteers Jonathan Mayer, President; Norm Hantzsch, Vice President; Nancy Malone, Secretary; Margaret Morkowski, Treasurer; Beth Miller, Member at Large (RPM); Alfredo Deloa, Member at Large (Sailfish Parent); and paid staff member, John Schonder, Head Coach.

I recently learned that humans, unlike most other primates, are especially able to regulate their breathing to make underwater swimming possible. As I swim with Richmond Plunge Masters, I am finally using that innate ability. It feels right!

The team holds practice every weekday at noon, three times a week at 6:00 p.m., twice per week at 6:00 a.m. and on Saturdays from 8:00 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. Come on down, regulate your breathing, and join the fun!

WHERE'S OUR WIG WAG?

The Wig-Wag is being stored at the City of Richmond Corporate Yard. EBMUD agrees that they are responsible for the restoration. They are currently working with the City Attorney's Office and the Public Works Department to finalize the costs and restoration plans for them. Victor Morales (of Crest Avenue) has the lead for the PRBA to follow-up with the City staff to make-sure "It all comes together." EBMUD has been pretty good about the whole process.

POINT COMMUNITY CENTER

The saga of the Point Richmond Community Center continued on Wednesday, January 24th when the Point Richmond Neighborhood Council met for their monthly meeting. Once again, and again, the key and the locks were malfunctioning! Community Center not available. A frustrated Alpha Humphrey is the designated Volunteer as keeper of the key which she must obtain from the Recreation Department before and return after each event.

Next door President and Mother-to-be Megan Bleckinger, found the local firemen willing to remove the fire engines onto the street for use of the space for the meeting. The helpful firemen even provided a table and chairs for the officers, plus a couple other chairs while the rest of the 100 attendees stood.

What attracted so many to this meeting? Well, the proposed Art Gallery with a Tattoo Parlor. Tattoos are art. Next Neighborhood Council meeting is February 29. Try again.

Steve Gilford

In #310, I described the famous Norman Rockwell Saturday Evening Post magazine cover of the husky woman war production worker. He portrayed her on her lunch break, eating a sandwich but with her rivet gun atthe ready, lying across her lap. On her lunch box, Rockwell had painted the name, "Rosie". How had he come to choose that name for his larger-than-life riveting heroine?

#311 Rosie the Riveter Pt. 5

Rosie becomes a household name and steps into history

If you had to pick a birthday for Rosie the Riveter, you could very well say that she was born in Chicago on Friday, January 15, 1943.

On that date, a popular quartet calling themselves The Four Vagabonds went into a studio to record two songs they had prepared for the session. There was a hitch, though. At the last minute, the composer of the songs refused to give them permission to record his tunes and it looked as though the session would be canceled.

Although the Vagabonds were a well-known group with fan clubs from coast to coast, unlike the other big stars of the time, they didn't do much recording. Instead, they concentrated on live appearances on radio. With an astounding fifteen hundred songs in their repertoire, great flexibility, and their ability to prepare new songs quickly, they were in demand. They'd been singing together for almost ten years and had perfected their harmonies to blend their voices into a single smooth stream of melodic sound. By 1943, they were regulars on the ABC Radio Network and best known nationally for their daily appearances on the very popular hour-long, five-morning-a-week, Don MacNeill's Breakfast Club where they sang three songs each broadcast and participated in the on-air comedy.

On this particular day when the four singers went to the RCA Victor Company's Chicago recording studio and learned that the songs they had worked up could not be recorded, they must have been disappointed since their agreement with the Bluebird label, a subsidiary of RCA Victor, was $3000 for each recording session. Perhaps that's why when the record company executives approached them with sheet music for two substitute songs, they agreed to look them over on the spot. They spent some time going over the music to see how the songs might be presented, experimenting with the harmonies and then told the record company executives that if they could have one hour more to work on the arrangements for the two songs, they'd be ready to record. Rosie the Riveter

The songs were "Rose of Charing Cross" and

The Four Vagabonds on an ABC Radio Network publicity still

*All the day long,
Whether rain or shine,
She's part of the assembly line.
She's making history,
Working for victory,

*Keeps a sharp lookout for sabotage,
Sitting up there in the fuselage.
That little frail can do
More than a male can do.

*Rosie's got a boyfriend, Charlie.
Charlie, he's a Marine.
Rosie is protecting Charlie,
Working overtime on the riveting machine.*

*They gave her a production "E",
She was proud as a girl could be.
There's something true about,
Red, White and Blue about

another “Rose” song, the one destined to be a runaway hit, “Rosie the Riveter”.

“Rosie” had been written several months earlier by two established songwriters Redd Evans and John Jacob Loeb. Their inspiration had been a newspaper column describing how Rosalind Palmer, recently graduated from high school, had taken a job at an aircraft factory near New York City where, as a riveter, she was helping to assemble the beautiful but deadly Corsair fighter planes for the US Navy.

Loeb and Evans had been intrigued by the sound of the words “Rosie” and “Riveter” and the contrast between the floral associations of the name and the deadly serious nature of the industrial process Rosie was engaged in.

Rosalind “Rosie” Palmer seemed to represent the hundreds of thousands of women who were leaving their homes to go into the wartime factories to help win the war and to bring the men back home.

When they'd finished writing their new piece, they had little trouble convincing the Bluebird Record company to buy it. When they gave her a production Unfortunately, once the record company had purchased it, they just let the sheet music sit in a filing cabinet for several months. It was the unexpected refusal of an unknown songwriter to release his music to The Four Vagabonds that January 15, 1943, that sent the company executives scurrying to their file cabinets to find a replacement. That was the day that Rosie the Riveter stepped into her place in history

The Four Vagabonds had asked for an hour to prepare "Rosie" and "Rose of Charing Cross". When their hour was up, they were ready to step up to the microphone. Not only did they keep to their schedule but they nailed each of the songs on the first take. When you listen to their imaginative arrangement of "Rosie", complete with sound effects made by the singers, you can appreciate their achievement.

"Rosie the Riveter", almost overlooked had been discovered in an emergency and had begun her career by setting a production record!

The song was released the next month and was an immediate hit. People recognized in this Rosie the spirit that had led their daughters, sisters, wives and sweethearts to go out into the workplace to do "men's jobs" as a way of participating in the war effort.

As the song played out over millions of radios and Victrolas across the nation, newspapers and newsreels began looking for hometown Rosies of their own and discovered many of the inspiring stories mentioned earlier in this series.

With this sort of popularity, it seemed only natural that Norman Rockwell would decide that a woman working as a riveter would be an appropriate subject for the Saturday Evening Post cover he had been commissioned to produce. Of course, his cover was a great hit, too.

It was probably only a matter of time before Hollywood would take advantage of Rosie's growing renown. In 1944, Republic Pictures released a movie version, starring Jane Frazee and Frank Albertson, a comedy in which four women working in a factory share a boarding house with four men, each sex trying to take charge over who gets to use the house for what, and when. TV Guide's review says it is "Pretty silly but harmless".

What was not at all silly though, were the results of the work done by millions of Rosies across the country who were helping the US win the production battles in what had become a war for survival for the US and allies.

RICHMOND'S OLDEST BORN DIES

Lillian Kelleghan Ghidella passed away in her sleep last year in Orange County, age 98. Lillian was born to Pete and Annie (Valencia) Kelleghan in Point Richmond at 225 Clarence Street in a house built by her father in 1905. Lillian was considered the oldest living person that was born in Richmond. Her father, Pete, was a carpenter at Standard Oil and could walk to work. Lillian lived here until her marriage to "Dutchy" Ghidella when they moved to Dunn Avenue in Richmond. Several years ago she moved to Orange County to live with her son, Allan Ghidella. Lillian worked in the print shop of the Richmond Endependent. She was one of seven children. Lillian is survived by her brothers Mervyn Kelleghan, Pinole and Allan, Orange, CA.

Deaths.....

Nellie Bisio Pasquini born October 10, 1923, died December 10, 2011 in her home. Nellie was a lifelong Richmond resident, born in Point Richmond to parents Giacomo Bisio and Yvonne Godard Bisio. Nellie attended Richmond Schools, Washington, Grant, Longfellow and Richmond Union High School. She worked at Peter Pan Soda Foundation and retired from Bank of America after 55 years. Nellie was a devoted wife, and mother and is survived by husband Romeo Pasquini who she married September 3, 1944 and sons Richard, his wife Margaret and their children, Sarah and Vincent, son Dan, his wife Teresa and their children Danny and Laura. Nellie was preceded in death by her brother Claude and his wife Bernadette Bisio.

Trannie Elizabeth “Betty” Dornan died at Doctor’s Hospital on January 7, 2012, age 93 . Born on 2nd Street , the first child of Trannie and Robert Dornan. She graduated from Richmond High School in 1937. Classmates Marie Thompson , Mary Tom Coe and Betty for years met for luncheon dates once a month with Marie coming from Martinez to drive them. Betty joined the historic Point Methodist Church in 1931 and was their oldest member. She taught Sunday School and sang in the Choir. She worked in S.F. for USS steel and later PG&E. She was a member of the Point Richmond History Association and the Westside Improvement Club. Betty was preceded in death by her parents, a sister, Dorothy, and brother, Robert. Betty was survived by her sister-in-law, Mid Dornan, 3 nieces, Patricia Dornan, San Pablo; Kathleen Barnes, Oxford, MS. ; Roberta Palfini, Irvine, CA and three nieces. A Memorial Service was on Saturday, January 21st at the Methodist Church.

Helene Raffanelli Frosini was born in Point Richmond October 19,1920. She died January 16, 2012. She lived in Point Richmond her entire life. She attended Washington Elementary School, Roosevelt Junior High School and graduated from Richmond Union High School in 1938. While a sophomore in high school, she met the “Fred Astair of Point Richmond”. Al Frosini. a senior at the time. The initial meeting began a long love affair with dancing before, during, and after school. The result of this meeting was her falling in love with her best dance partner, Al. They married on July 13,1942. When Al joined the Army, Helene joined the war effort and was employed at the Explosive Manufacturing Operations, a torpedo producer. However, after horrifying experiences with three major explosions at the factory, one in which she was the sole survivor, she asked for and received a safer job working in the office. She worked there until the war ended and Al returned home. 1947 was an important year for Helen and Al. They welcomed the birth of their daughter, Valerie and also purchased their restaurant, “Al’s Fountain” at the corner of Santa Fe and Tewksbury Avenue in Point Richmond. Helene, “the Boss”, turned the restaurant into a successful eatery which they operated for 32 years. Helene and Al were long time members of The Galileo Club and The Point Richmond History Association. Helene was an avid golfer and a member of the Franklin Canyon Golf Course. She had the distinction of making a “hole in one”, and won many local tournaments. Helene is survived by her daughter, Valerie, and son-in- law Jerry Gutierrez, three grandchildren, two great-grandchildren; three nephews and one niece. Her Memorial Service was held on January 28 at St. Joseph Cemetery.
